SALUTATORY.

is customary in this century of enlightenment when presenting a publication of any description to the public, to add a nonsensical preface in the shape of a preface or introductory extolling the contents of the volume and giving in a succinct form the principal points which the book or author seeks for fame. That the East St. Louis Directory shall not be an innovation, and that its compiler may be remembered by those very particular individuals who continually follow for the style of the day, the well trodden path of introduction followed at a distance.

It is useless to state that many difficulties stood in the way of a complete classification of all the inhabitants of the city the great stumbling block being the absence of numbers of the houses and the irregularity of the streets, which defects will undoubtedly be eliminated in future editions of the book.

Besides furnishing our citizens with a list of names and a first class advertising medium, the author of this volume had another object when he conceived the idea of compiling it, that is to show to our people the necessity of petitioning the Post Office Department for a free delivery, which we are justly entitled. Other towns with a less population than we have are enjoying the delivery system, and why should East St. Louis not put on airs and show to the world that she is the commercial and manufacturing metropolis of southern Illinois. The compiler has completed his labors and figures out a population of fifty thousand two hundred and seventeen, a number far less than a directory containing 5,000 names would indicate, owing perhaps to the many enterprises operated by single persons. It is to be hoped that the leading citizens will take an active part in the project of securing the delivery and by such action attempt to add materially to the welfare of the city.

The delivery an assured thing and not a scheme on paper, and the city would rise like the Phoenix of old and command the respect of St. Louis that Brooklyn does from New York. Why should we not? We have the advantages and should put on our armor. The leading capitalists are now offering great inducements to foreign capital to locate here and if all the citizens will take an active part in booting the town, dealing at home and doing all in their power to support representatives of the people we will undoubtedly succeed. The town enjoys a fine water works, which has a capacity of several million gallons per day, three influential newspapers, viz: the "Herald" independent M. F. Tissier, editor and proprietor; the "Signal" Republican H. D. O'Brien, editor and the "Gazette", Democratic, J.W.Kirk, editor a first class school board consisting of Messrs J. M. Sullivan, president John A. Joyce, secretary; and John Cantillon, Dennis Rush, W. Dill, Thomas Cannavan. A council consisting of Mayor M. M. Stephens Aldermen John V. Tefft, M. Bird, Louis Menges, Dr. C. F. Strecker C. Marsh, W. W. Russell, R. Cunningham, Martin Eagan; one of the finest police departments in the country under the command of Chief Michael Walsh, and many large manufacturing establishments, which have been secured through the indefatigable efforts of some of our leading citizens.

We now conclude by thanking the many business men who assisted in the enterprise and lauding the East St Louis Herald, and Mr. Tissier its proprietor, for the magnificent mechanical production of this volume. We earnestly hope that the delay will be excused, and faithfully promise to issue all future editions on time.
